Hello Revolut team

let's drive human change in fintech together

Money touches every part of life. Yet for most people, managing it well stays complex, overwhelming and out of reach. Not because they lack ambition, but because the systems, the language and the barriers make it harder than it needs to be. Revolut dares to change that. Bold, accessible, borderless. That is a mission worth fighting for and where I want to contribute.

I have spent 20 years helping companies improve the way people experience digital services. Reducing friction, building engagement and turning complexity into clarity. That is exactly what the Lifecycle Marketing Manager role in crypto asks for. Here is what I bring.

● Customer Insights

Qualitative and quantitative research. Behavioral insights and journey mapping translated into lifecycle improvements, better messaging and less friction.

● Data Driven Engagement

Campaigns built on explicit and implicit data. Advanced segmentation, scoring, profiling and opt-in strategies to engage the right person at the right moment.

● Funnel & Lifecycle Analytics

End-to-end lifecycle management across onboarding, activation, retention, reactivation and cross-sell. Funnel analysis to detect drop-offs and design targeted interventions.

● Behavioral Understanding

5 certified trainings in behavioral science. 25 behavior design workshops. Applied to money, investment and digital services to reduce friction and build confidence.

● Customer & User Growth

Full lifecycle strategies, loyalty and educational programs. Strong activation and adoption results across SaaS, mobile apps and digital platforms. 4 rewarded lead generation campaigns.

● Personal Trading Experience

20+ years of personal experience in stocks and crypto investing. Deep understanding of the emotional and mental complexity people face in financial decision making.

Additional strengths: +15 years marketing automation | +450 customer engagement campaigns & +20 full engagement programs | digital conversion & optimization | content & UX copy

I chose Revolut

"After 10 years of freelancing across agencies, corporates and startups, I made a deliberate choice: to commit back fully to one mission and one team. I chose Revolut."

"People genuinely need better guidance and simpler solutions to manage their money. Revolut takes that seriously and actually does something about it. That's why Revolut is my genuine first choice."

What makes me a strong fit

● Global mindset

Living and working across Belgium, Spain, France and Argentina. Experienced in central/local marketing across WEMEA.

● I take ownership

I do not wait to be told what to do. I initiate, I decide and I am accountable for my domain. Consistent with the team and the overall CX.

● Marketing technology

+15 years in marketing automation and CRM. I integrate systems, train teams and build one connected customer view.

● Agency & startup DNA

I know production from the inside. I work across profiles, test fast and take on whatever is needed, from strategy to copy to design.

● With and for people

I help colleagues grow. +40 workshops and trainings delivered. I invest in people because better people deliver better results.

● I build and enable teams

At Serviceplan and Wolters Kluwer I built teams, raised the quality bar and created the conditions for better and faster work.

"Money is one of the most emotionally charged domains in daily life. Better guidance and less friction can make a real difference, financially and emotionally. That is why I want to work here. And with already 10 years of experience in finance, I know this world from the inside"

Understanding Customer Lifecycle

I know how to build and run customer engagement from the ground up. I have trained marketing teams across Europe, run 40+ workshops and worked as CX and Engagement Consultant with central and local marketing teams at large corporates. Not just advising, but designing, building and executing together. I share two frameworks I developed and applied.

Customer Engagement Framework: A persona-centred model connecting content marketing and lead management around the customer decision journey. Applied across 10+ corporates to build structured engagement programs.

Marketing Maturity Model: A practical model to help teams grow step by step in marketing automation maturity. From quick wins to data-driven engagement. Applied across multiple industries and countries.

What I master

● Research & Insight

● Experimentation & Conversion

A/B testing | Email, website, forms, notifications, landing pages | Personalisation | New technology | Digital stress | Detect & resolve emotional and mental friction | Behavioral techniques

Beyond Lifecycle Marketing

My background goes broader than CLC alone. These are three areas where I can add value beyond the core role, when the team needs it.

Service Design From idea to service

Designing and improving digital services from the ground up, always grounded in customer and user research.

User Engagement From first use to daily habit

Guiding users through first value experiences, feature adoption and recovery. Step by step financial guidance.

Research Insight for better decisions

Setting up continuous research within a team: the right methods, enriched with behavioral understanding.
